

Leadership Development Program

An Immersive Leadership Experience, Built For Impact

Based on topics chosen by your key leadership, this fully customized program specifically aligns to your organization's goals and perspective by leveraging the power of 4 distinct delivery methods each month: Interactive articles crafted by our PhD researcher/writer team; on-topic podcasts with organizational leadership; one-on-one executive performance coaching to support a participant's unique journey, and a team-based webinar that wraps up the month's growth and learning.

The Monthly Path To Growth

01

Article

Engaging, interactive content that reads like your favorite magazine. Rich stories and the latest research are pulled together in a format that leaders look forward to each month, enhanced by stories and personal exercises that translate learning into impactful action.

Podcast

To enrich each monthly topic, why not tap into the experience and perspective of your own top leadership? Using our "Next Level" Podcast platform, TPI produces an on-topic monthly podcast that reinforces key concepts and growth areas.

Coaching

The cornerstone to lasting personal growth. Our trained and credentialed executive performance coaches partner with participants for purpose driven coaching engagements. In addition to supporting learning, coaching flexes to unique needs, stresses, and tensions.

Group Webinar

A final group webinar provides the last step in each month of growth. Facilitators use discussion based, small group learning to highlight key tenets, discuss and apply across the company landscape. Immediate impact is felt across teams.

Our Clients' Experience

Engaged, supported leaders with the tools, knowledge and ability to make immediate impact

Increased retention and job satisfaction among high potential leaders

Demonstrated knowledge and application of leadership competencies specific to the organization

Energized employees ready to lead and inspire

Strong relationships developed across a growing network of program alumni

“

My team has been moved to action. The credentials of TPI's coaches read like a who's who of impressive life achievements – from military special operations to PhDs. More importantly, they reinforced the intrinsic values we highly regard in our leadership team. Not only is my team more driven to improve their organizational performance, but they're more empowered in their personal lives as well. “
